

tech businesswoman of the year award

sponsored by PwC

1 Key details

Company		Website
Company registration number
Main activity		Founded
Head office address		Contact name and number

2 Key financials (last financial year ends)

	2017	2016	2015	2014
Trading weeks
Revenue UK (£'000)
Revenue International (£'000)
Gross profit
Operating profit (£'000)
Adjusted operating profit (excl. directors remuneration/exceptional items – please explain below)
Number of employees
Directors (add no. if too many)
Shareholders (add no. if too many)

3 Notes

Criteria	The winner of this award will be a strong role model for other women in the industry and inspire the next generation of entrepreneurs, CIO and CTOs. She might be a leader of a tech company or technology function but plays a key role in championing technology and technological change within business. Her drive, energy and commitment will have been instrumental in developing new technologies or contributing to the company's success.
-----------------	--

UK tech awards 2018
is sponsored by

We will judge nominations based on your answers to the following questions: (please answer with max 1,000 characters including spaces per box)

About your business – What does your business do? When was it established? What has made it successful? How has the nominee contributed to this success?

in association with

Max: 1,000 characters per response, including spaces

About the nominee – Who is the nominee and what is their background? What makes them a role model and successful business leader?

Max: 1,000 characters per response, including spaces

What successes, visions and challenges has the nominee had to face to date? How have they overcome them?

Max: 1,000 characters per response, including spaces

Why this award and why this year?

Max: 1,000 characters per response, including spaces

Any additional comments?

Max: 1,000 characters per response, including spaces

UK tech awards 2018
Please send this submission to:
jo.thomas@ford-sinclair.co.uk